Competencies and Performance Standards

1. Sing by sight reading method.

Learning objectives
What you will learn as you master the competency:
- a. Memorize names of all notes—treble and bass clef.
- b. Identify each musical interval by associating with one song title.
- c. Classify all musical intervals within an octave by listening method.
- d. List all musical intervals within an octave by written method.
- e. Identify verbally each musical interval as you sight read a single line, slow speed.
- f. Sight read a single line by using Solfege, 1-3-5 method, or on "la."
- g. Memorize and recite all major triads.

Performance Standards
Competence will be demonstrated:
- in written and oral examinations
Performance will be satisfactory when:
- learner demonstrates by visual and written examination correct knowledge of all notes—treble and bass clef
- learner identifies all musical intervals
- learner classifies all musical intervals
- learner correctly identifies each interval in a single line
- learner demonstrates proficiency in sight singing a single line on "la," 1-3-5 or Solfege methods
- learner successfully lists on written and timed exams all major triads

2. Sing in tune.

Learning objectives
What you will learn as you master the competency:
- a. Sing back on "la" exact single pitch, as played on a piano, within an octave, slow speed.
- b. Sing back on "la" the exact single pitch, as played on a piano, within an octave, increasing speed.
- c. Sing back on "la" the exact single pitch, as played on a piano, expanding range high and low, slowly.
- d. Sing back on "la" the exact single pitch, as played on a piano, expanding range high and low, increasing speed (student is to sing back pitch as fast as he/she hears it).
- e. Expand by using tonal memory pitch recall exercises, and singing back groups of two, three, and four pitches, expanding finally to seven note groups, precisely in tune.

Performance Standards
Competence will be demonstrated:
- in class exercises
- in performance
Performance will be satisfactory when:
  o learner sings back on "la" the exact single pitch
  o learner expands by using tonal memory
